To Whom It May Concern,

I would like to recommend Sandy Winning's materials for children with Special Needs and Autism.

At our school we have three mainstream children with Autism and children within the Education Support Unit with special needs. It is often difficult to obtain appropriate materials for these children, to assist with their language learning.

The materials which Winning Concept have designed are user friendly, appropriate for use with Pre-primary to primary aged students, colourful and the photographs are top quality with the concepts being easily identifiable.

It is really fantastic that someone has taken on this concept, as busy teachers do not have the time to be taking photographs and making new teaching aids. The price is reasonable and the quality of the materials and the strong laminating ensure durability and a long- life?

I recommend these materials to any teacher or teacher assistant who has a student with special needs.

Yours sincerely,

Nesta Fallick
